Compass Offices' Newly Renovated Business Centre at the Refurbished Singapore Land Tower – Panoramic views of Marina Bay Sands

Singapore – On 13 April 2023, Compass Offices (Compass) presented its newly renovated business centre on the 19th floor of the refurbished Singapore Land Tower, the first phase of renovation for its two-floor flexible office space. The 48-storey landmark tower will be transformed into a premium Grade A commercial building, making it an ideal office location for a wide range of industries. The second phase of the renovation on the 30th floor of the tower is expected to be completed in September/4Q 2023.

The refurbished Singapore Land Tower was spearheaded by renowned Japanese architect Fumihiko Maki, the recipient of his profession's highest honor, the Pritzker Architecture Prize. Most notably, the building exterior features a pristine curtain wall that sheaths the entire façade and a new roof crown that will increase the building's prominence in the city skyline. Taken together, these new features will galvanise Singapore Land Tower's standing as an urban landmark.

“Compass Offices' 2-floor business centre in the Singapore Land Tower reflects our commitment to creating innovative, immersive, and engaging interior environments that cater to the needs of a contemporary business. The upgraded office space will offer a quality workplace for corporates and business professionals alike.” – Hans Leijten, Chief Executive Officer, Compass Offices.
